Bill Ivans International Trade Award 2009 to be presented to SeaSpace Corporation of Poway, California

June 19, 2009 -- The San Diego and Imperial District Export Council announces that the 2009 Bill Ivans International Trade Award will be presented to SeaSpace Corporation of Poway, California. Its President, Hyong Ossi, will receive the award on behalf of SeaSpace today at the San Diego World Trade Center's Fifth Annual Global Logistics Symposium.

The San Diego and Imperial District Export Council established the Award in 2000 in memory of Bill Ivans, founder of San Diego based Cohu, who for many years was a tireless advocate for San Diego's prominent place in global trade.

Richard Forsyth, Chairman of the San Diego and Imperial District Export Council, said, "The Bill Ivans International Trade Award recognizes a company that has recently excelled in exporting, and has used the products and services of the U.S. Department of Commerce to attain significant growth. SeaSpace Corporation's success in the international market place is a strong statement about the quality of its products and management and its use of the many important resources available from the U.S. Department of Commerce".

in Vietnam and generate sales to the Vietnamese Government, as well as export counseling and export controls training on various international transactions including on a recent sale in Turkey.

“Our partnership with the U.S. Commercial Service has been vital to our overseas export business and we are honored to accept this award,” says the President and CEO of SeaSpace Corporation, Mr. Hyong Ossi.

ABOUT SEASPACE CORPORATION:

At its inception in 1982, SeaSpace Corporation was a pioneer by providing commercial remote sensing ground stations. When real-time direct-reception data was exclusively available to government agencies, SeaSpace Corporation developed the TeraScan® ground station, which brought a cost-effective solution to the research and industrial sector. This was the catalyst that launched some of the most important discoveries today involving the ocean, atmosphere and environment.

With over 25 years of experience in remote sensing, SeaSpace currently provides solutions to meet the requirements of a variety of users, ranging from research to military to emergency response, and currently has TeraScan® systems in operation at more than 450 customer sites in over 35 countries and all seven continents, receiving and processing data from virtually all meteorological, oceanographic and environmental remote sensing satellites. TeraScan® systems provide high reliability at a low-cost, and can be configured as portable or fixed stations. SeaSpace is dedicated to providing their customers with the most advanced products for satellite remote sensing along with the highest levels of service and support. These products will include supporting the direct reception of the upcoming GOES-R and NPOESS series of satellites.

ABOUT THE U.S. COMMERCIAL SERVICE and DISTRICT EXPORT COUNCILS:

With offices across the United States and in more than 75 countries, the U.S. Commercial Service of the U.S. Department of Commerce's International Trade Administration uses its global network and international resources to connect U.S companies with international buyers worldwide.
